"WELCOME TO... THE END OF YEAR AWARDS CEREMONY" were the words that first billowed from Mr Hunter's mouth during an admittedly corny powerpoint presentation, created and showcased by he and the fabulous Miss Edwards. You see, Friday 19th marked the final day of this academic year before the big one: Summer! So, as I hope you might expect, Meadowcroft sought to deliver one heck of a hoorah (yes, hoorah) before the holidays!

Now, the awards themselves were obviously the highlight for the likes of staff and certainly parents, but for the pupils... it had to be the burger van and ice-cream truck we had on offer; mind you, based on Mr Clarke's face with a cheese burger nestled in one palm and a dripping sherbert ice-cream in the other, the day had peaked early. However, as delicious as burgers and ice-cream are in summer time... our ceremony was one to remember. Not only was it the biggest turn out of parents we've ever had, but unlike last year, in which our former headteacher had to stall the crowd for 10 mins due to 'technical difficulties' (nice going Mr Hunter), the presentation went off without a hitch; to top it off, Mr Hunter and Miss Edwards even went as far as to provide mugshots of themselves with bunny ears as the powerpoint drew to a close, with the looney toons outro theme blaring in the background (at least they found it funny).
